

Body Systems

Inside every human is a skeleton made of bones. The skeleton has many functions.

It protects delicate parts of the body like the organs.

It gives us our shape and determines our size.

It supports muscles and organs.

It allows us to move. Muscles are attached to the bones and move them like levers.

Body systems

Body systems

Body systems

Body systems

Body systems

